

1 THE COURT: I don't mean the defendant
2 -- I'm like the witness, pardon me for the slip I
3 made in language.

4 MR. CAHOON: No problem, Judge.

5 THE COURT: I know I didn't hear the
6 question.

7 MR. CAHOON: My error.

8
9 Q. Do you remember asking Mr. Durst if you
10 were finally on his side about two thirds of the 11 way into your first statement?

12 A. If I was finally--

13 Q. On his side, do you remember that?

14 A. No.

15 Q. No? Calling your attention to page 72
16 of your statement I'm going to ask you to take a
17 look at that, it's underlined. Do you remember
18 making that statement: Am I on your side
19 finally?

20 A. Do you mind if I read before and a
21 little bit after?

22 Q. Go right ahead, take your time.

23 A. Context of that statement is not what it
24 seems to be.

25

1 you were asked about a garage?

2 A. The exact response, no.

3 Q. If I suggested to you that page 85 and
4 86 of your transcript, your response was as
5 follows -- I'm going to read it to you, tell me if
6 you remember it, okay?

7 The question was: Okay, let's work a
8 little bit more on the house. Do you remember
9 anything about -- you told us about, it's not a
10 big house and you told us about the color of the 11 house, do you remember anything about a garage?

12 And your answer was, page 85 and 86:
13 For some reason I'm not sure. Like I said, I can
14 remember a garage but I can't explain it to you.
15 Just seems like for some reason it's another house
16 and another dream. I don't know if what I'm 17 telling you is in my mind, I mean, I'm not sure if
18 it's mixed with other things or not about details
19 of the house and road and so on and so forth. I'm 20 not certain about that. I mean, it could be some
21 other house, some other road I have seen. Do you
22 know what I mean? Just what you told me.

23 Do you remember that?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Do you remember in your statement of
